Dr. O'Neill Candidate For Board

Biggest political surprise in San Mateo County during the 1944 campaign which is just getting under way came Tuesday with the announcement of John W. Poole of Redwood City, supervisor for 18 years, that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

The move throws the race in the Third Township, which includes Redwood City south to the Santa Clara County and as far west as La Honda, wide open to prospective candidates who had believed Poole to be their main obstacle in securing the post.

Dr. A. E. O'Neill, Redwood City dentist who has lived here 19 years, this morning secured nomination papers from County Clerk William H. Augustus and announced that he definitely was in the race for the Third Township supervisorial post.

George Alvis, engaged in the bail and property bond business here and a resident of Redwood City all 43 years of his life, told reporters he plans to take out nomination papers for the Third Township supervisorial position this afternoon.

Evans A. Fletcher, Redwood City councilman, who has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for supervisor, announced this afternoon that if Poole doesn't run for office he will seek the post.

Another Redwood City councilman, Harold F. Anderson, former mayor, and Henry A. Beeger, also a former Redwood City mayor, were mentioned this afternoon as possible candidates for the Third Township supervisorial post.

Beeger, however, contacted late today, said he would not consider the county office "for the salary of the three best offices in the courthouse."

"Life's too short," Beeger commented.

The name of John W. Morey of Menlo Park, an unsuccessful candidate for supervisor in 1936, was mentioned today as a possible candidate but he told the Tribune this afternoon he did not plan to run.

Poole, who was appointed Mar. 31, 1927, by Gov. C. C. Young to fill the term of the late John MacBain of Menlo Park and who has served as supervisor ever since, said press of other business caused him to forsake political life. He is employed at the Port of Redwood City.

"I want to return to civil life," he said. "I have other matters that require my attention."

After filling MacBain's unexpired term, Poole was elected to the office in 1928 and has been elected to that post for four four-year terms. He was chairman of the board while filling MacBain's term.

Poole has been a member of the Redwood City Elementary School Board of Trustees for 30 years. He is the father of John H. Poole, who operates a transfer firm here, and Robert W. Poole, Sequoia High School instructor. Supervisor Poole and his wife reside at 253 Iris St.

State Sen. Harry L. Parkman today took out nomination papers for both the Democratic and Republican parties for re-election. Senator Parkman was elected to the state assembly in 1926 and was elevated to state senator in 1932. He was re-elected in 1936 and 1940.

Judge Maxwell McNutt, who yesterday filed his declaration of intention to seek re-election, today took out nomination papers.

Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell is expected by political friends to take out nomination papers tomorrow or Thursday.

Both Alvin S. Hatch of the Coast-side and Thomas L. Hickey of the north end of the county, incumbents, have announced they plan to seek re-election as supervisors. Supervisor Fred E. Beer and Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame are holdover members of the board.

McKinley Honor Roll Announced

McKinley School today announced the names of 97 students in the 7th and 8th grades whose records were good enough to place them on the honor roll for the report card period ending Jan. 28. Fifty-one 8th graders and 46 7th graders are on the roll.

Eighth grade honor students are: Irving Priest, Dick Schmitz, Dorothy Garner, Sue Gingerick, Lois Clark, Nora Crone, Sue Morgan, Marilyn Wade, Barbara Heinicke, Patricia Marcus, Ruth Marzotto, Kay McCoy, Donna Gaestel, Norma Winters, Curtis Axel, Donald Davis, Earl Langan, Frank Salazar, Billy Brizee, Josephine Mattarossi, Alice Torres, Margaret Urquiza, Edna Kenyon, Frank Urquiza, Lloyd Watson, Karen Frayne, Elifreda Jacobsen, Louise Nieri, Dorcas Smith, Claire Stoner, Norman Campbell, Jim Day, Don Baker, Albert Fernandez, Edward Kinsey, Dorothy Baldwin, Alice Bogie, Olga Bullard, Grace Childs, Margie Coykendall, Josephine Maynard, Terry Ann McLean.

Seventh grade honor students are: Claire Bailey, Anna Lee Burns, Carol Breckenridge, Howard Frey, Vila Cleveland, Barbara Davis, Eva Lee Rice, Richard McBride, Diane Kirtland, Louisa Sausedo, Victoria Vardanega, Patricia Crossley, Janet Fredrickson, Pat Karney, Carol Shugert, Billy Foster, Mary Lou Buck, Diane Colgate, Verona Culevig, Ann Lancaster, Joan Stollenwerf, Ruby Wofford, Joan Woolcock.

Biddleton Faces Two Complaints

Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Demattei Wednesday reported that two complaints have been filed against John Biddleton, 19-year-old army deserter, who yesterday was booked at the county jail here by San Mateo police, charging burglary.

One of the complaints was filed by A. T. Gherini, proprietor of Monte's Tavern, 1640 Main St., from whom he is alleged to have stolen liquor on Jan. 6. The other complaint alleged that Biddleton burglarized the Oak Tree Inn in San Mateo.

An accomplice to a series of burglaries in San Mateo County is being sought by officers.

Today filed his declaration of intention to seek re-election, today took out nomination papers.

Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell is expected by political friends to take out nomination papers tomorrow or Thursday.

Both Alvin S. Hatch of the Coast-side and Thomas L. Hickey of the north end of the county, incumbents, have announced they plan to seek re-election as supervisors. Supervisor Fred E. Beer and Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame are holdover members of the board.

Ole Oleson To Run For Council

Ole S. Oleson, Redwood City automobile dealer, Wednesday became the first candidate to declare his intention to seek one of the four city council positions to be filled at the municipal election Apr. 11.

The initial filing date for candidates seeking city offices has been set for Friday by City Clerk Ralph F. Dodge. Four councilmen's terms will expire this year. They include Mayor Floyd D. Granger, George W. McNulty, C. C. Armstrong and W. W. Hilton.

In announcing his initial candidacy for a public office, Oleson stated that he felt that if he is elected to a position on the council, he could be of help in promoting progressive ideas that would continue the advance being steadily made by the community.

"My object in deciding to run for one of the council posts," he explained, "is to help in promoting the advantages which Redwood City has. I think this city has possibilities surpassing any city in this state."

Oleson, a resident of Redwood City since 1927, has long been active in civic and club affairs. He has served as a member of the Redwood City Recreation Commission, City Lions Club and served as president of the Redwood Aerie 418, Fraternal Order of Eagles in 1936-37. He has since been a director of the Eagles lodge.

Oleson has been particularly active in promoting recreational events, having sponsored Redwood City town baseball and boys' softball teams for many years and taking part in other activities. For more than a year he has been a member of the Redwood City Recreation Commission. He is president of the Peninsula Celebration Assn., which was formed after the 1941 Fourth of July celebration but has been inactive because of the war.

Before entering the automobile business here, Oleson was advertising manager for the weekly Times-Gazette.

Gilbert Grotheer Pleads Not Guilty

Gilbert C. Grotheer, 41, San Francisco truck driver, Monday was arraigned before Superior Court Judge Maxwell McNutt here and pleaded not guilty to a charge of manslaughter. His trial was set for Mar. 14. He waived a jury trial.

Grotheer's truck, Dec. 15 was involved in an accident with a car driven by Mrs. Frances Boone, 515 Quartz St., on El Camino Real at Jefferson Ave. In that Mrs. Boone's 14-month-old son, Richard, was killed.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE: Police Active in Redwood City Plan

Volunteer auxiliary police during 1943 numbered 70, 63 of whom were certified, the annual report of Police Chief C. L. (Mickey) Collins revealed. The chief, under whose direction the police operated, said he was very pleased with the response and the co-operation secured from this unit.

Organized as part of the Redwood City civilian defense set-up, the auxiliaries at times worked with the regular police in patrolling the city and assisted in handling the police problems. They were provided with helmets, gas masks, sticks and stars.

Chief Collins attended all war council meetings, and the auxiliaries attended 22 meetings and participated with the regular police in 6 incident drills and blackouts, the report showed.

Due to changes in procedure stemming from decreasing danger of bombing attacks on the coast, the bomb reconnaissance unit offered its services, as a group of specialists, to the police department in emergencies where their training and experience could be used.

As first organized, bomb reconnaissance unit in Redwood City was handled by 15 men from industrial plants, city and federal agencies, seven of whom made up the bomb reconnaissance unit, serving under the commander of the war council.

During the past year, the report of Emmett Donnelly, chairman, showed, all members attended every incident drill, control center drill and the 1943 blackout. Six meetings of the unit were held.

At their own expense, members of the reconnaissance unit equipped themselves with coveralls, equipment bag, report forms, 100-foot tape, compass, candle, small first aid kit, leather gloves and flashlight. The group also furnished for civilian defense use a light pickup truck painted white, equipped with road signs, tools, ropes, stretcher and blankets, with the unit identification on the doors. The local war council supplied them with fire extinguishers, tools, helmets and gas masks.

Instruction regarding unexploded bombs was given to 500 air raid wardens by Lt. Clement Baume, USN, chief bomb reconnaissance agent, now on active duty. The reports of the auxiliary police committees have been reported previously in the Tribune, and the remainder will be published in future issues.

'LOOSE TALK': Lips Tight About War Activity Urges OCD

In an attempt to curb loose talk concerning military and defense operations which might impair the war effort, the Redwood City Office of Civilian Defense today enumerated eight "don'ts" which civilians should observe.

The drive to dry up all sources of "gossip" for the duration has been instituted by the State Director of Civilian Defense, who is urging all civilian agencies to cooperate in the program. The rules suggested for public guidance are:

1. When uniformed men say anything to you that has not been published about their experiences, do not repeat it.

2. If you see movements of troops or equipment, do not mention it.

3. Do not talk with your fellow workers or business associates in public places about your mutual activities relating to the war effort.

4. When you rent property or sell milk, bread or any continuing service to a member of the armed forces, merely ask him to sign his name and serial number to the order. Do not require the name of his unit, branch of service or name of station.

5. Members of churches, clubs, or other local groups should not mention the departure of other members who are connected with the armed forces or of their families.

6. Relatives of military personnel departing from home or training areas for ports of embarkation men to railroad stations or otherwise call attention to what they unwittingly may cause to be a final parting.

7. When military personnel are overheard disclosing military information, try to learn the name of the offender and report it to the intelligence officer of the nearest military post. This should be done at once so the offender can be apprehended before he leaves the area.

8. When civilians are heard sounder the commander of the war council.

Quick action by the government agency was asked in the letter as drafted by City Atty. McCarthy, in order to insure its being placed on the ballot for the election on Apr. 11, since the council cannot enter into a contract for a period exceeding their period of office, nor obligate the city beyond its present budget.

The proposed plan, McCarthy declared, is based upon the Rochester system first used in Rochester, N.Y. It is based upon the principle that it is more equitable to finance such a project, not through general taxation or a bond issue, but by a charge against the users. He pointed out that the letter is merely an inquiry as to what the RFC will do, and not a commitment.

A sharp interchange occurred between Councilman C. A. Britschgi and Mayor Floyd Granger during the discussion. Britschgi accused the mayor of quibbling over small money matters in the proposal submitted by the city manager, and asked why the city should have a manager if the council wouldn't accept his findings. Granger replied that he wanted to know how the money was being spent.

The council as a whole acknowledged the urgent need of a solution to the sewage disposal system, and approved dispatch of the letter to the Reconstruction Finance Corp. It asks for approval of the loan, and requests the government agency to formulate a proposal to be submitted to the electorate.

Sewage Plant Plans Made By Council

Groundwork for possible acquisition of a sewage disposal plant in Redwood City was laid by the council Monday night when they approved a letter to the Reconstruction Finance Corp. at Washington.

As worked out by City Mgr. Robert W. Mead and City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy, at the suggestion of the finance committee, the plant would be financed by a $300,000 loan from the RFC, and would be paid for by assessing a moderate monthly charge upon each house, place of business, factory or other location with live sewer connection, with a probable minimum charge of 50 cents, increasing proportionately for large users.

Supervisors Introduce New Ordinance

San Mateo County Board of Supervisors at a short session today introduced a proposed commercial hog ranch ordinance for its first reading.

The proposed ordinance is patterned after a hog ranch ordinance in Orange County, which has been tested in the appellate court and upheld. If passed it will provide a stricter control over the sanitary condition of the ranches than had been possible.

COMMUTERS: Congratulations Extended Kiwanians for Victory in Bond Contest

BY JOE CABOOSE

Kiwanians have the Indian sign on the Commuters in the "present" war bond competition. Local Kiwanians may not know much about playing baseball, but when it comes to selling bonds, they are tops! Clarence Eriksen, Commuter team felt they had a chance at first honors until they heard about the $65,000 mark set by the Kiwanians.

Now the best the Commuters can hope for second money. But, as Lloyd Liebman expressed it at the directors meeting the other night, "We would rather be second at $30,000 than first at $25,000!" That's a fine sentiment. It is the sort of spirit that will put this drive over... and ultimately win the war.

The Commuters will hold their street sales this Saturday, Feb. 12, but the bulk of their "take" is already in the bag, and they don't expect to come even close to the Kiwanis' $65,000 goal. So... with hearts free from envy, we salute Kiwanis... and extend our sincere congratulations.

Of course, Kiwanis has an advantage that Commuters have not. They have representation in the city's three leading banks—Jim Hagan, Bank of America; Carl Ward, American Trust; and Lou Behrens, Elmer Morrish and Lee Ross of First National—and we hope this doesn't sound like sour grapes) it is reported on reliable authority that the Ki's $65,000 included the day's receipts at all three of the above-mentioned banks. It is also reported that some of Mary Flynn's tax assessments got added into the $65,000 item... but we don't believe that. Nor do we believe the story that the great who bid in a $10,000 bond was a double talker and that his purchase was recorded twice.

Anyhow, comes it Spring pretty soon... and the baseball season. And then we'll have a chance to even the score. In the meantime, maybe the Commuters who won last year's game will get that dinner still owing to them by the Kiwanis.

We have been slowly going nuts trying to figure out the words to that catchy tune: "Mairzy doats and doze-y dotes. 'And little lamie dive-y. 'A little dee dive-y too. 'Wooden shoe." As we tore the last handful of hair out of our head, Patricia came to the rescue and told us the words. Here they are, a la Pat: "Mares eat oats and does (female deer) eat oats. 'And little lambs eat ivy. 'A kid (baby) goat! 'I'll eat ivy too. 'Wouldn't you?"

So, if you too are going nuts, and this saves you, we have done our Boy Scout deed for the day.

Our heroine of the week, thanks to information supplied by a contributor, is:

"A business woman of Redwood City who is always on the job when needed... but who modestly stays in the background. She gives of her time freely when blood bank is in town and when the Red Cross requires some extra help. She will be found at the courthouse when the WAVES are registering new applicants. She gives up every other Sunday to cook 'breakfasts like they get at home' for 30 or more service men at USO Hospitality House on Middlefield Rd. And now, on behalf of the Rainbow Girls, she is working hard soliciting Fourth War Loan bonds!"

Who is she? None other than Mrs. A. J. Weiss, who works in a Main St. haberdashery.

We are proud to salute Mrs.

Weiss, who modestly claims she is only doing her bit.

Wrex Cruse telephoned us yesterday he had run across Lou Jenkins in the city and Lou explained he kept in touch with his old home town by reading Joe Caboose. Which is very flattering. That now makes seven people who read this silly stuff.

The sick committee did not growl Sunday because its chairman, and chief growler, Bill Curran, was himself laid up. Nothing serious we are told. John Brand is still ailing from an injured leg, and Bert Morgan was home a week with flu, but is about again.

Speaking of the "chief growler" reminds us of Big Chief Train-whistle who had just ascended to power over his tribe. In his inaugural address, he told his assembled warriors: "I am a very democratic person and I don't like formality. Don't call me 'Big Chief Train-whistle,' just call me 'Toots.' Which is almost as corny as the nickname they had for Big Chief Rain-in-the-Face. They called him "Dribble Puss."

And speaking of dribble pussies, we think it is a crime you can't buy cleansing tissues when you need them. Nearly everybody has a cold these days and paper kerchiefs have become both an economic and sanitary necessity. But the druggists tell you they don't have them because of the paper shortage. Paper shortage is being hanged! Until they stop printing thousands of lascivious and useless magazines, not to mention many equally useless government reports and press releases, we have no patience with the "paper shortage" excuse for "no kleenex."

Congratulations to our friend and neighbor, James Berry, who has just been promoted from lieutenant to captain in the U. S. Marine Corps!

And don't forget, Commuters: Your next big meeting is at So-dini's this Thursday evening, Feb. 10, 7 p.m. A good dinner and a pleasant surprise await you!

Kensington Women 'Call' On Council

Without mining any words, two women from the Kensington Square district battled with the Redwood City council Monday night to get immediate action on their request for permission to connect with the city sewer system.

Brushing off objections, the two women stuck to their guns, and charged back into the fray again and again as the discussion progressed, maintaining that the seriousness of the emergency demanded action immediately.

Mrs. Robert Pettit, as spokesman for Kensington, stated flatly that the residents in the area would pay anything for the privilege of joining on to the city system. She was backed up by Mrs. Fred Fader, who presented the problem not only as a health menace to Kensington, but to Redwood City as well. Mrs. Fader said the conditions in the district were so bad that some of the residents were compelled to use the plumbing facilities of the Southern Pacific Railway. If she were a man, she said, she would dig a ditch and let some of the overflow run into Redwood City streets, stating she knew this would bring immediate action.

The council agreed that the acute situation in the Kensington district required prompt attention. Councilman C. A. Ericksen strongly championed the cause of the district, even to calling a special meeting next week to take final action. Reason given for delay was that a proposal made to the district was considered unacceptable by its attorney and that settlement of the matter hinged on a proposal acceptable to Kensington Square district.

The original proposal, on recommendation of L. C. McAbee, engi-

Meal Planners Receive Hints

In order to offer practical and timely suggestions on meeting that ever-present problem of wartime meal planning, the National Biscuit Co. has launched an interesting new series of Snow Flake Cracker advertisements in the Tribune. "No method we employ for this important purpose is more satisfactory than the use of popular local newspapers," stated a Nabisco representative today. "Housewives and their families rely so fully on the papers they enjoy reading in the desire to keep abreast of fast-moving events on both the war and home fronts."

In each one of the well-illustrated new Snow Flake messages there are hints for nourishing dishes that are easy to prepare. Inasmuch as this is an ideal season for "soup and crackers," attention is placed on the most popular combination. As an extender of meat dishes, too, fresh, flaky Snow Flakes are in constant demand. Their use requires no ration stamps, a mighty important consideration these days.

Grocers in Redwood City are co-operating with the campaign by displaying Snow Flake Crackers and the foods that go so well with them.

USS Lowry Christened By Burlingame Woman

Ann Lowry of Burlingame, daughter of Capt. George Lowry of the operations office of the U. S. Navy, christened the USS Lowry in ceremonies at the Bethlehem Steel Co. ways, San Pedro, according to Associated Press dispatch today.

The ship is named for Miss Lowry's grandfather, the late Commodore Reiger B. Lowry, veteran of the Civil and Mexican wars.

neer for the Kensington district, provided for a payment of 50 cents a month for each connection, or $6 a year. This, with other expenses involved in joining the city system, brought the total to about $400.

This proposal was not accepted by the council. E. A. Wilson, attorney for the area, proposed a charge of 10 cents per $1000 of assessed valuation, or $35 a year. He stated the 50 cent figure originally was too high, as the district was limited by law to 40 cents per hundred, based on a valuation of $35,000, limiting them to $140 a year.

This figure was deemed too low by Mr. Robert W. Mead, city attorney. Paul A. McCarthy, and they decided upon 20 cents as fair to both the city and the district.

Councilman C. C. Armstrong, although stating the council in entire sympathy with the project, was opposed to a special meeting, declaring the problem had existed over a long period of time, but had been presented to the council formally only recently. He said it could wait another two weeks. He and other members of the council said the first they knew of the situation was "what they saw in the papers."

Mrs. Pettit, who instigated the matter had been presented to Mr. Mead about 2½ years ago, but then admitted that a change in attorneys had slowed up the proceedings. The situation became complicated when the Kensington district let a contract for the work before securing permission to join onto the Redwood system. She asked if it would not be possible to let the contractor go ahead, on the supposition that a satisfactory arrangement would be worked out.

Mead and McCarthy reported that a meeting with the Board of Supervisors did not result in any guarantee of payment of the fees, since the board, though expressing confidence the district would meet its obligations, did not believe they themselves were empowered to assume responsibility. At the last meeting of the council, the matter of collection had been of some concern, but the council last night, seemingly more conscious of the urgent nature of the situation, brushed this aside.

The matter was finally disposed of by instructing the city manager and the city attorney to meet with representatives of the Kensington district and work out an agreement acceptable to the district and the council, so final action could be taken at the next regular council meeting on a contract which would enable the district to start work upon the project.

Julia tells How to cook
macaroni and

EVER HEAR of "Mezzanelli"? Or "Foratini"? No, they're not opera singers. Mezzanelli and foratini are simply sizes of macaroni—sizes you won't find on the labels of many packages. But if you did, you'd be able to prepare them just as you would spaghetti or any other size or shape of macaroni.

Because, believe it or not, all the various macaroni products (excepting noodles, which usually contain egg) are made of the same ingredients: flour, water, and salt. The size and shape (tubular, elbows, shells, etc.) simply add interest to their appearance.

And what real meals you can make with these foods! Consider that good old stand-by:

MACARONI AND CHEESE
1½ lb. uncooked macaroni 2 tps. dry mustard
4 tps. shortening 2 cups milk
4 tps. enriched flour ½ cup grated cheese
½ tsp. salt

Cook macaroni in large amount of rapidly boiling salted water until tender; drain thoroughly. Melt shortening; blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually; then add 1 cup of the cheese and cook until thick, stirring occasionally. Combine macaroni and cheese sauce in well-greased 1½-qt. baking dish. Sprinkle with remaining ½-cup cheese. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) until cheese is melted and well browned, about 30 minutes. Serves 6.

Incidentally, I've found that all macaroni products cook to better advantage uncovered, in plenty of water well salted—about 4 qts. of water and 1 tsp. of salt for each ½-lb. of the macaroni. The water must be boiling hard—and you add the macaroni slowly so the boiling won't hesitate. Best kind of kettle to use is a wide and shallow one.

And here's another macaroni-product dish which meets with consistent favor in my home:

SPAGHETTI MARCO POLO
½ lb. uncooked spaghetti 1 tsp. salt
2 buds garlic ½ tsp. pepper
2 tps. finely cut parsley ½ cup grated cheese
7 tps. salad oil 3 cups cooked tomatoes

Cook spaghetti in large amount of rapidly boiling salted water until tender; drain thoroughly. Saute chopped garlic and parsley in hot salad oil until garlic is slightly browned. Add tomatoes and seasonings. Cover and cook slowly about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Force mixture through sieve. Add sauce and cheese to hot spaghetti and mix well. Serve at once. Serves 6.

Sometimes you may cook more of some macaroni product than you can use immediately. How to store the leftovers? Simply put them in the refrigerator, in a covered dish. How to reheat them? Rinse them in water, drain thoroughly, and heat in a sauce.

A real meal with macaroni? Try it, and you'll be convinced!

Scouts to Meet Executive

A large delegation of Scouters headed by Louis B. Dematteis, chairman of the southern division will meet the new chief scout executive, Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, on his first visit to California early in March. The lay conference will be held on the Peninsula. Fully three hundred scouters from San Mateo County will meet the executive.

SEA SCOUTS

Council Sea Scout Comar. T. W. Spiller together with Field Executive Chet E. Wilson have completed their annual inspection of all Sea Scout Ships throughout the council. Ship 145, Redwood City, under Skipper Warner Britschgi was inspected last week. This ship meets each Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Scout Hall on Jefferson Ave. in Redwood City. All boys of 15 years of age and over who are interested in joining the senior scout movement are invited to attend a meeting at the Landship on Monday evenings.

Ship 154, under Skipper Norman Naughtin which meets on Thursday evenings at the San Carlos Grammar School will have its annual inspection later in the year.

M.P. Council
Increases
Bond Quota

MENLO PARK—The Menlo Park City Council voted unanimously last night to invest $12,000 in Series A War Bonds, thus doubling the $3000 purchase authorized at the last meeting.

In explaining the desirability of the purchase, Comr. Charles Burgess pointed out that in addition to aiding the war effort the city was also making "a sound, interest-bearing investment which was completely liquid."

A report regarding an alleged violation of the health code on the premises of Mrs. Mary Fonzi, 1055 Evelyn Ave., was made by City Atty. James O'Keefe Jr.

O'Keefe, assisted by a committee composed of Commissioner Burgess, Police Chief Tom Kearney, Fire Marshall Les Brown and Emil Stein, Royal Hodges and J. W. Fickelsen of the health department, last week investigated the apartment building owned by Mrs. Fonzi.

Not more than 9 out of the 12 apartments could be altered to meet health department requirements in the committee's opinion, but upon the suggestion of O'Keefe the matter will be taken up in open hearing at the next council meeting before the commissioners and members of the health department.

Council members will investigate the premises individually before the hearing. In the meantime two of the vacant apartments have been posted to a general posting of the entire building.

The question of how to combine voting precincts for the next city elections was discussed briefly. A decision on the matter will be made at the next meeting which, because of Washington's birthday, will be held on Thursday, Feb. 24.

Forms Needed
In Filing
Tax Return

First Dist. Collector of Internal Revenue Harold A. Berliner today urged income tax payers to have all necessary information on hand when filing their 1943 tax return.

"Internal revenue employees will not be able to assist you effectively in the preparation of your 1943 return unless you have certain information at hand."

Information needed includes:

1. Form W-2 furnished you by your employer showing wages received and tax withheld.

2. Form 1125 sent you by the collector of internal revenue with the blank forms for 1943, showing tax reported and amount paid for 1942.

3. If you filed a declaration of estimated tax during 1943, a copy of such declaration, Form 1040-ES, or the taxpayers work sheet used in preparing it.

4. ALL members of the armed forces and any other taxpayers who do not have Item 2 above should have with them a copy of the 1924 tax return and a record of the exact amount of tax paid thereon.

5. An accurate record of all other income besides wages received in 1943.

Lt. McPhee
Prisoner
Of Germans

News that their son is alive and safe in a German prison camp has been received by the parents of Lt. Donald J. McPhee, 24, Burlingame airman previously reported missing since Dec. 22. Simultaneous with the arrival here of the official War Department message to Mr. and Mrs. John A. McPhee, 730 Crossway Rd., was announcement of Lieutenant McPhee's safety on a Tokyo shortwave radio broadcast, heard by a San Francisco woman who notified his family.

Lieutenant McPhee was reported missing Jan. 4 after a raid over Germany Dec. 22. The War Department message merely said that he is a prisoner of war, but the Tokyo broadcast gave his name and said that he is alive and well in a prison camp in Germany, giving the number, and asked that listeners notify his parents. The message was picked up at 10:15 p.m. Saturday by Mrs. Ruth Welker of San Francisco, who called the McPhees here.

Lieutenant McPhee attended Burlingame High School, San Mateo Junior College and the University of California, before entering the service. His sister, Miss Patricia McPhee is a well-known Peninsula golfer, holding the Crystal Springs course championship. McPhee was a navigator on a Flying Fortress.
